User Story Map Explanation:

The User Story Map was updated from deliverable 2 after discussion and insights from the deliverable meeting. The phone app is the main focus however, voice calling functionality was removed as well as the user system and phone setup. This removal increases the ease of use, as well as ease of development. The web application idea is under review as it will not be able to be implemented within the time available for development. If the web application is desired, the development can be moved to post release to allow for proper release of an minimum viable product (MVP). The phone app is separated into two releases, the first is the creation of the phone application and call screen, and the second is the addition of the 911 call script and interface navigation. The separation provides a full MVP that can be easily created and added onto and provides necessary functionality to the user.
